Past performance is not indicative of future results. Investment in any strategy involves a risk of loss which may partly be due to exchange rate fluctuations. The performance results shown, whether net or gross of investment management fees, reflect the reinvestment of dividends and/or income and other earnings. Any gross of fees performance does not include fees and charges and these can have a material detrimental effect on the performance of an investment.

Source: Insight Investment and Rimes. Fund performance is shown for share class B1 € Acc (which has an inception date of the 1 October 2012) and is calculated as total return, including reinvested income, gross of fees and expenses. Gross of fees performance results do not reflect the deduction of charges, which will reduce investors' returns. Benchmark performance shown is for the 3 Month Euribid. Performance for periods over one year is annualised. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. The value of investments and any income from them will fluctuate and is not guaranteed (this may be partly due to exchange rate fluctuations). Investors may not get back the full amount invested. Investors must read all performance information alongside the full performance information in the KIID.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTS

Risk assets came under pressure in March as escalating geopolitical tensions weighed on sentiment and triggered a sharp repricing across markets. The portfolio posted a negative return over the month, giving back earlier year to date gains. Equities were the main detractor, with energy sensitive regions in Europe and Asia particularly weak, while US markets declined amid rising inflation concerns. Total return strategies detracted as upside oriented option structures in emerging markets reversed, though more defensive positions helped mitigate losses. Fixed income proved relatively resilient given our modest duration exposure, despite higher yields weighing on government bonds. Real assets provided valuable diversification, with commodities a strong positive contributor driven by energy prices. We tactically reduced positions where changing fundamentals warranted adjustment, but broadly maintained a pro cyclical stance given the underlying macro backdrop is likely to remain resilient.
