Past performance is not indicative of future results. Investment in any strategy involves a risk of loss which may partly be due to exchange rate fluctuations.

The performance results shown, whether net or gross of investment management fees, reflect the reinvestment of dividends and/or income and other earnings. Any gross of fees performance does not include fees and charges and these can have a material detrimental effect on the performance of an investment.

Source: Insight Investment and Rimes. Fund performance is shown for share class B1 £ Acc and is calculated as total return, including reinvested income, gross of fees and expenses. Gross of fees performance results do not reflect the deduction of charges, which will reduce investors' returns. Benchmark performance shown is for the 3 Month Sterling Libid. Performance for periods over one year is annualised. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. The value of investments and any income from them will fluctuate and is not guaranteed (this may be partly due to exchange rate fluctuations). Investors may not get back the full amount invested.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTS

Many developed equity markets reached new highs in August, and laggard markets began to catch up their previous underperformance. This drove a strong contribution from our broad equity holdings, with positions designed to capture upside in key equity markets providing an additional boost. Following this strong performance, and with data suggesting that economic momentum is fading, we trimmed our equity and commodity holdings to reduce our cyclical exposure. In fixed income markets, worries about policy normalisation led to a small negative return from our government bond positions, but this was more than offset by gains in high yield credit and emerging market debt. Our infrastructure holdings were another notable contributor, with renewable energy holdings boosted by forecasts of higher future energy prices. We added positions designed to benefit from more range bound equity markets and a number of defensive currency structures over the month, enhancing portfolio diversification.
