FUND MANAGER COMMENTS

In Europe, the European Central Bank (ECB) pushed back rate guidance to keep interest rates at current levels until the first half of 2020, extending its previous timeframe of “at least through the end of 2019”. Additionally, growth forecasts for 2020 and 2021 were revised lower. ECB President Draghi also waved off worries of deflation and a de-anchoring of inflation expectations. However, later in the month at the ECB Forum in Sintra the ECB president surprised markets by saying that a new round of monetary stimulus, and possibly a restart of the bond-purchasing programme, if inflation expectations did not improve. His comments come as the market’s expectation for inflation hovers near all-time lows. The 1-month Euribor rate decreased from -0.38% to -0.39%, while 3-month Euribor also decreased from -0.32% to -0.35%. Activity in the Fund was very light during June. The weighted average maturity of the Fund increased from 27 days in May to 31 days by June month-end.
