FUND MANAGER COMMENTS

Despite persistently high inflation, the European Central Bank (ECB) reiterated that the rise in prices would be temporary so made no changes to interest rates. The bank did, however, acknowledge that "higher for longer" inflation could not be ruled out. While it repeated that purchases under its Pandemic Emergency Purchase Programme would be discontinued by the end of March, it maintained a rise in interest rates this year is unlikely as policy support was still needed. Meanwhile, the annual eurozone inflation rate rose from 4.9% in November to 5% during December. In markets, 1-month EURIBOR increased from -0.58% in December to -0.57% in January, while the 3-month rate rose from -0.57% to -0.55%. Interest rates are set to remain low for now, however a more hawkish ECB could bring forward rate rises sooner than previously expected. The weighted average maturity of the Fund was 38 days at the end of December and 42 days at the end of January.
