SHARE CLASS PERFORMANCE

Source: Insight Investment and Rimes. All performance is annualised. Fund performance is shown for share class 3 and is calculated in US dollars as total return, including reinvested income, gross of fees and expenses. Gross of fees performance results do not reflect the deduction of charges, which will reduce investors' returns. The CNAV Insight Liquidity Funds are investment funds and not banking products and whilst preservation of capital is a major component of the objective of the funds it is not guaranteed. Neither Insight nor any other BNYM group company will provide capital support for the CNAV Insight Liquidity Funds in the event of any capital loss arising within the funds. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. Please note the value of investments and any income from them will fluctuate and is not guaranteed (this may be partly due to exchange rate fluctuations). Investors may not get back the full amount invested. Please note: data is provisional and may change.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTS

The Federal Reserve (Fed) kept rates unchanged in March and lowered its forward guidance for rates 2019 and 2020. A new dot plot indicates that the Fed predicts no hikes this year and only one for next year, but markets now expect the next rate move to be a cut. The further dovish tilt by the Fed came with lower growth and inflation forecasts: GDP expectations fell to 2.1% for 2019 and 1.9% for 2020, while headline inflation projections decreased to 1.8% and 1.9% for 2019 and 2020, respectively. The Fed also provided more clarity around its plan for tapering its balance sheet runoff. The monthly reinvestment cap for Treasuries will be reduced to $15bn starting in May and will fall to zero in September. In markets, 1-month US dollar Libor was unchanged at 2.49%, while the 3-month rate also decreased from 2.62% to 2.60%. Activity in the Fund was very light in March. The weighted average maturity of the Fund decreased from 22 days in February to 19 days by the end of March.
